

LINDA TAKES TOP PLACE AT TORONTO

She Nearly Passed It Up As First Contest Loomed

—Big Chance Was In Sidney

By BILL CHATTERTON
Canada has a new "Miss" and Sidney has new honors.

The dream came true on Sunday evening when the judges at Toronto pronounced Sidney's beautiful Linda Douma Miss Canada 1965.

They picked blue-eyed Linda out of 20 contestants from across the Dominion to bear the coveted title for the next year—a year that will surely be the most exciting in her life.

The crowning on Sunday before a nationwide television audience marked new firsts for both Sidney and Miss Douma.

Linda was Miss Sidney of 1963. She then went on to become the first Sidney girl to wear the Miss P.N.E. crown later that year. With the support of the Sidney Lions Club—and indeed the entire community—she went to Toronto a week ago to vie for the Miss Canada title as the first Sidney entrant—and won!

THEY KNEW

But Linda is an exceptional young lady as her record over the last two years indicates so well. Those who knew her well had little doubt that she would take it. They are people like Mrs. Vivian Cowan, Mrs. Phyl Levar and Mrs. Lil Hunt who were behind Linda all the way in the Miss Sidney and Miss P.N.E. contests. And John E. Callard, Lions Club president, who saw her on her way to the east a week ago after heading a major drive in the district to finance the trip. There are many more.

But possibly the biggest bouquets should go to her sister, Cathy, and Miss Sidney of 1962, Barbara Erickson, who persuaded her to enter the Miss Sidney contest last year. As Linda said a year ago after winning the Miss P.N.E. crown: "Without Barbara and Cathy urging me I probably wouldn't have entered the Miss Sidney contest in the first place." Thanks to their powers of persuasion Linda is now the happiest young lady in the country.

GREW UP HERE

Another tiny B.C. community is sharing some of the honors of the recent crowning—Tofino—that remote little town on Canada's most western west coast. For Linda was born in Tofino 20 years ago to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Douma. But she grew up in Sidney. She arrived here with her parents when she was one year old, by way of Victoria. Linda will be 21 next June.

R. H. Payne Elected By Fishermen

Reg. H. Payne, 10974 Madrona Drive, was elected president of the Sidney local of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union on Friday, Nov. 6.

Other officers elected to serve with the new president for 1965 were George Macintosh, vice-president; Walter Norbury, secretary-treasurer; executive board, Gordon Reid, Marvin Eckert, Al Lawton, John Grimsson and Jack Gourd.

Election of officers took place at the K. of P. Hall, Fourth St.

Attending the meeting was Homer Stephens, secretary-treasurer of the union's headquarters in Vancouver, who spoke on licence limitations.

PRIVILEGE OF AN AUTOPSY DENIED SIDNEY RESIDENTS

Sidney residents who desire the privilege of an autopsy should not expect this service from St. Joseph's Hospital in Victoria.

An autopsy was recently performed on the remains of a Sidney resident in the hospital. Expenses were charged to the Village of Sidney which is prevented under the Municipal Act from paying such an account. The hospital accountant was urged to bill Attorney-General Robert Bonner, whose responsibility it is.

At Monday's meeting of Sidney council, a communication was received from Dr. M. J. Lynch, on behalf of the hospital, pointing out that Mr. Bonner customarily pays the hospital only half of the normal charge for an autopsy. Because of this, said Dr. Lynch, the hospital will in future refuse to carry out autopsies on Sidney residents. By the tone of his letter, Dr. Lynch would be happy to perform an autopsy on Mr. Bonner—gratis.

All residents of the municipality should take note of the impasse and arrange that their autopsies be done elsewhere.

They Were Missing At Schools

While trustees of Saanich School District confidently placed their trust in a patrol by Commissioners during Halloween last week, they were deluding themselves.

The Canadian Corps of Commissioners had no available personnel for the patrol and schools were denied their protection.

The board of trustees planned the patrol in an effort to avoid vandalism on October 31.

Although the Commissioners were missing, so also were the vandals.

Towner Road Closed

Towner Park Country Club has closed the recently black-topped Towner Road to the public.

The road has been closed because the gate leading to Madrona Drive has been torn off its hinges as many as five times in one day, said Morley Holland, club president.

Mr. Holland said that the private road has been used as a race track and club members are tired of paying for the damage.

No Lack Of Prizes For Linda

—Variety

Dazzling array of prizes worth up to $25,000 was won by Sidney's dazzling Linda Douma on Sunday along with the honor of being Miss Canada.

Travel is prominent on the list of a wide variety of gifts accompanying the title.

There will be a three-week holiday in Hawaii.

And a trip to Cyprus to visit Canadian troops.

And a trip to Hong Kong.

And Japan.

On top of all this, Miss Canada will spend many days on the road in North America appearing at all types of functions.

Material gifts include a complete wardrobe—from beach ensemble to evening gown; some $5,000 worth of other prizes including a $1,000 watch, a necklace and console radio photograph with many other miscellaneous items.

Linda's job as Miss Canada will pay her $5,000 in cash for the year.

The role of Miss Canada will be at times a gruelling one for the young Sidney brunette. The pace will be constantly hectic until she crowns her successor a year from now and returns to her studies in Victoria.

Miss Linda Douma, who had already graduated from Miss Sidney to Miss P.N.E., was named Miss Canada on Sunday night after a week-long contest in Toronto. The Sidney girl was watched by hundreds of families when the contest finals were broadcast over TV late on Sunday evening.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Douma, Third St., Linda is a graduate of North Saanich secondary school and is now in her third year at Victoria University. She will take a year's leave from her studies to fulfill the duties connected with her new title.

The story of her success is one of accomplishments. Representing a community of less than 3,000 people, she edged out representatives of Canada's great cities to take the title.

Sidney Lions Club was her sponsor. The club has been formed only a few months and this project was its first effort in the community.

John Callard, club president was jubilant as soon as he heard the news from Toronto. He had already extolled the chances of his candidate.

"I knew she had a very good chance," he crowed, "but when the news came through we were jubilant. I am as excited as if she had been one of my own family," he added.

THEY HAD TWO REASONS FOR THEIR INTEREST

Double interest in the Miss Canada pageant last Sunday was shared by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith of 9628 Fourth St., Sidney.

Mr. Smith's niece, as Miss Winnipeg, was a candidate in the contest with other Canadian beauties, including the winner of the Miss Canada crown, Linda Douma, of Sidney. Miss Winnipeg, although unsuccessful in her bid for the title, received a scholarship for her performance at the piano.

Good wishes and commendations came spontaneously from all parts of the Peninsula.

The success represents a considerable change in routine for Linda. Instead of attending classes in Victoria she will be centred on Toronto and taking part in ceremonies and events in many parts of the world.

A flight to Hawaii and Japan is part of the award to the new Miss Canada. She will also probably visit other parts of the world. Heading the list of prizes amounting to thousands of dollars is a $5,000 scholarship.

For 12 months Linda will represent Canada at numerous functions. Next year she will relinquish her tour of duty and continue her studies.

Baseball Meeting Friday

—Little League

It's out-of-season for baseball, but a meeting of the Central and North Saanich Little League Association will be held this Friday, Nov. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall on Mills Road.

Meeting has been called for an election of officers for 1965, said President Eric Hawkins.

Jack Kingerlee will discuss the proposed amalgamation of Saanich and the Sidney and North Saanich War Memorial Park Society. Sidney and North Saanich Little League games are played on the society's property, therefore any change in administration of the property is of concern to the association.

Mr. Hawkins said the meeting will be open to any persons interested in Little League.

Explains Facts Of Rat Life

Numbers of rats increase sharply following the mating season.

This information was furnished to Sidney village council on Monday evening in a communication from Dr. J. M. Whitbread, senior medical health officer for the district.

The medical man, at the request of council, had examined a residential property on Canora Road and agreed that there were rodents there. Normally rats are somewhat migratory in their habits but during the mating season they sometimes establish homes and raise families. This causes local increases in their numbers, he explained.

Steps have been taken to exterminate the Canora Road rats, said Dr. Whitbread and the village will pay the cost of the poison.

No further population explosion in the rat population of Sidney is expected until the next mating season. Dr. Whitbread did not volunteer the information as to when rats mate.

H. A. ROSE DIES IN CALGARY

Former Sidney resident H. A. Rose passed away in Calgary on Tuesday morning. Mr. Rose went to live in Calgary with his daughter several weeks ago due to his failing health. His residence at Sidney was on Reshavan Drive.

It is understood that funeral services will be held at St. Paul's United Church in Sidney this Friday with interment at Royal Oak Burial Park.

HOSPITAL PATIENT
Mrs. N. Maie, mother of Mrs. J. M. Williams, Eighth St., is a patient at Rest Haven Hospital.

THRILLED AND SHOCKED!

Family Rejoices At News

The family was informed of Linda's success at 8.45 p.m. Sunday when they received a telephone call from Miss Jean Griffiths of Sidney. Miss Griffiths had received a call from a cousin in Toronto only moments before when the results of the pageant were announced in the east.

The anxious family received a confirmation of the report just after 9 p.m. when they answered a long distance call from Mr. and Mrs. A. George Rodgers in Toronto who had watched the crowning of Linda on television. Mr. Rodgers is the former administrator of Rest Haven Hospital and Mrs. Rodgers was Linda's music teacher for a number of years.

The couple told the Douma family that they had spoken with Linda on Saturday at O'Keefe Centre.

Congratulations have been pouring into the home of Miss Canada at 9781 Third St. ever since.

Marine Agent To Be Told Of Brentwood Wharfage Problem

Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce last week decided to send a letter to K. Dixon, district marina agent, explaining the problem of "indiscriminate" federal wharfage usage at Brentwood Bay.

ON PARCEL BASIS

Motion to send the letter came after the chamber heard a report on the wharf situation at Brentwood from Thomas Kier, who voluntarily undertook a study of the problem. Problems of the usage of the two federal wharves was centred on two points: that local boat owners are hogging space at the floats leaving little or no room for tourist craft to tie up (this despite a 48-hour time limit), and that the federal government "appears to be going into the marina business" by renting space to local residents at the dock. Mr. Kier said that wharfage being charged is either two cents per foot of length for one day or part of a day, or 40 cents per foot on a monthly basis.

DOUBLE FOOTAGE
Investigation by the chamber was triggered in September when Jim Gilbert proposed that the chamber request the government to increase moorage space at the wharf adjacent to the ferry dock. As outlined by Mr. Gilbert, the addition of two finger floats could double footage at the dock from 180 feet to 360 feet.

Linda (Cubell) strongly opposed the suggestion, pointing out that the present facilities are being misused. The floats must be regularly policed, he noted. Addition of floats without proper enforcement of regulations would not correct the problem, he contended.

The chamber last week agreed to write Mr. Dixon informing him that the federal docks at Brentwood are "being used indiscriminately by local boatmen."

The tax policies will be sent out later.

Tax is calculated on a rate of $1 per month, or $12 per annum. Because the utility has been operating only part of 1964, a full year's tax is not payable this year.

VANCOUVER-VICTORIA

MAIN TELEPHONE CABLE REROUTED AT SWARTZ BAY

B.C. Telephone Co. crews took to the mist-shrouded waters off the north end of Saanich Peninsula last Thursday to reroute almost one mile of the main trunk line connecting Vancouver and Victoria.

New length of cable was laid from the eastern end of Dolphin Road at Swartz Bay out to a point between Knapp and Piers islands by the Coal Island, a rebuilt landing barge operated by Coal Island Ltd.

Rerouting of the section at Swartz Bay was necessitated by expansion program at the ferry terminal.

The old line was hauled up from the bottom of the straits between the two islands and laid across a barge where the new section of cable was spliced into it. Tricky job of splicing the cables was carried out during Thursday afternoon and night without any interruption of service.

Supervising the operation for the telephone company were Dave Robertson, construction superintendent, and Whit Chin, district plant manager.

SINCE 1927

The line between Vancouver and Victoria was laid in 1927. It entered the water at a point near the islands ferry terminal but now comes out at the end of Dolphin Road and joins the old line at the corner of Dolphin and Swartz Bay roads.

The cable, which carries approximately 130 circuits, including telephone, teletype, and telegraph, is protected by a double lead armor plating. Cable placed in service last week is the same age as the section it replaces but has not been used before. The portion of the cable taken out will not be wasted.

After being rolled up from the straits it will be inspected by the company, repaired where necessary, and stored for future use.

Job of rerouting the cable took a week, including preparation and cost about $6,000.

WELL PROTECTED

Mr. Chin said this main line between Vancouver and Victoria is well protected. Air is forced through the cable from Victoria, Mayne Island and Vancouver. Therefore, if a leak develops the air rushes out and stops the sea water from entering. He said the company has had little trouble with the cable since it was first put into service, although it has been snagged and punctured several times by anchors.

It is definitely to the company's advantage to ensure that the cable is well protected. If service is disrupted on this line the company stands to lose about $2,000 an hour in revenue, said Mr. Chin.

COLLECTION CAN PROCEDURE IS UNDER FIRE AFTER EVENT

Some criticism has been expressed by residents of the district over the collection of cans for Save the Children on Halloween.

One householder was indignant that children were sent out early in the week of October 31 with their collection cans in order to ensure a maximum collection of comestibles on the Trick or Treat campaign.

Other critics suggested that the children had been given little conviction with their cans. Few young collectors had knowledge or interest in the campaign. The Review was told, and most collected their candies and presented their cans as an afterthought.

For several years children have been exhorted to collect for the fund on Halloween. The cans are distributed through Sunday schools and collection is made on Hallowe'en. Many parents in Sidney have suggested that a greater information would contribute to a greater motivation on the part of the children, with an accompanying increase in collections.

After spending the last few weeks undergoing treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital, Mrs. H. Dawson has returned to her home on Third St.

Mrs. A. Slater, Shoreacre Road, visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Slater, in Vancouver.

Mrs. D. Craig, Second St., who is a patient at Rest Haven Hospital had visits this week-end from her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Jamieson and daughter, Sandra, from Port Alberni.

Mrs. Audrie Buchanan of Toronto, Ont., was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Simpson, Birch Road, Deep Cove.

TRAVEL STILL FAIRLY HEAVY

Sidney continued to be a popular port of arrival into Canada from the United States in September.

During the month, a total of 7,444 passengers arrived here inward-bound from the U.S. As usual, there were less people leaving Canada via Sidney than arriving with a total of 5,927 in September.

Canadians accounted for 972 of the arrivals and 1,038 of those departing. Automobile traffic for the month was compatible with the passengers with a total of 2,203 arriving and 2,148 departing.

Yacht traffic was also fairly heavy for the month. Inward-bound were 118 foreign vessels and 21 Canadian vessels.

TEACHER OVERSEAS IS YET TEACHER IN HOME AREA

Teacher engaged with the Canadian forces in Europe does not relinquish his employment with his school district.

Last week trustees of Saanich School District learned that when a teacher volunteers to serve with the Canadian army, he must be recommended by his school board. He is then seconded to the department of national defence. His pay is furnished by the school district which is later recompensed by the federal government.

Approving the plans of a district teacher to travel overseas, trustees agreed that they would not take opposition in any specific case, but they felt the system could be overhauled.

Policy ensures that the teacher does not lose his pension position or other benefits by serving with the armed forces.

Neither was it clear to trustees who would pay benefits such as superannuation and other "fringe benefits".

ELVIS HERE STARRING AS KID GALAHAD

Elvis Presley pays a return visit to the Gem Theatre in Sidney this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, this time as "Kid Galahad".

In the film (his 10th), Elvis plays a bewildered boxer in a straight dramatic role. The movie co-stars Gig Young, Lola Albright, Joan Blackman and Charles Bronson.

No Presley picture would be complete without music and in Kid Galahad he sings six numbers, including "King of the Whole Wide World, This Is Living, and I Got Lucky."

It will be British comedy at the Gem on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Amiable Leslie Phillips becomes a vet for his latest comedy, "In the Doghouse". With Phillips are Hattie Jacques, Peggy Cummins, James Booth and Dick Bentley.

There's no end of fun as Leslie Phillips gets into endless scrapes... like chasing Rosie, the chimp, into a ladies' Turkish baths, taming a lion that invades a pet show, riding his bicycle into the back of a car... and many other hilarious sequences.

CAPACITY CROWD AT GARDEN CLUB MEETING

North Saanich Garden Club held its regular meeting on Thursday, Nov. 5, in the Sidney Hotel. Mrs. E. H. Nash, president, welcomed a capacity crowd and called on Mrs. G. H. Swainston to introduce new members and visitors.

The secretary read a letter of thanks from the Lions Club acknowledging a donation to their fund for Miss Linda Douma.

The Garden Club will operate a plant stall at the coming Sanssouci bazaar. As this is a community effort donations of plants, bulbs, fruit and vegetables will be welcomed from any source.

Door prizes for the meeting were donated by Mrs. E. W. Hammond, Mrs. E. G. Devoson and Mrs. B. W. Andrews.

After a five-minute break to see the entries in the monthly club competition, an arrangement using dried materials only, Mrs. W. G. Richmond announced the winners: Mrs. G. H. Swainston, Mrs. J. Riddell and Mrs. J. S. Shapter with Mrs. C. H. Orme getting an honorable mention.

Mrs. C. H. Whitmore conducted a novel question and answer period in which the club members always had the right answers.

Mrs. G. Smith welcomed W. D. Roth to the club again, this being his third appearance. Being in the parks branch of the department of recreation and conservation, he was able to give information and show colored slides of some of the 226 provincial parks.

Club competition for December is to be three Christmas arrangements, one for a table, one for a mantel and one suitable for a door. This meeting will take the form of a Christmas party with members exchanging gifts to value not over 50 cents.

Trucks By-Passing Scales?

Complaints To Be Checked

Measures to ensure that laden gravel and soil trucks shall pass over the weighing scales at Elk Lake were discussed last Monday by Saanich council. Complaint of excessive speed through Cordova Bay by heavy vehicles had been made by N. T. Potter, 5218 Cordova Bay Road.

In his letter to council, Mr. Potter wrote: "It is a test of nerve to drive a small car with one of these monsters breathing down one's neck." He mentioned recent accidents in which heavy trucks have been involved, and questioned whether there is proper mechanical inspection of the vehicles.

Report of Sgt. E. C. Owens, forwarded to council by the chief constable, said that there has been representation to the department of commercial transport with the object of re-locating the sign indicating the scales to a position north of Sayward Road.

Council voted to endorse the report, and advise Mr. Potter of the action.

Basketball Season Opened

Bad Night For Saanichton

Saanich Peninsula Basketball League opened the season with a three-game card on Saturday night at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton.

League president, M. Christian, of Sidney introduced Reeve R. G. Lee of Central Saanich who wished league officials and players a very successful year and then threw the first ball to start the season.

The first game, between Cordova Bay and Saanichton pre-midget girls, was a close game, with Cordova Bay surging ahead in the latter part of the game to come out the winner, 18-14.

Saanichton midget girls battled a tough, hard-playing Cordova Bay team to a 35-5 win for Cordova Bay in the second game and the third game saw Brentwood bantam boys beat Saanichton, 37-15.

Good attendance was encouraging to officials and players alike and it is hoped the parents and friends will show their support by keeping up the good attendance at all future games.

Games scheduled for the Saanichton teams this week are: Midget boys vs. Cordova Bay, at Cordova Bay on Wednesday night and games at Saanichton Saturday night when the local pre-midget boys tangle with Brentwood, followed by Cordova Bay bantam boys vs. Saanichton.

Benvenuto Too Narrow?

Proposal from a prominent Victoria businessman to widen Benvenuto Road leading to the Butchart Gardens was referred to the roads committee by Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce last week.

R. H. B. Ker, 2282 Arbutus, said the road should be widened two to three feet on each side and entirely resurfaced. He noted that the present concrete road was built by Mr. Butchart in 1922 immediately prior to a visit by the Prince of Wales. He said the road leading from West Saanich Road to "Victoria's greatest tourist attraction" is too narrow for today's traffic.

Mr. Ker's letter was originally addressed to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce where it was referred to the transportation and harbor group. This group in turn sent a copy of the letter to the Central Saanich chamber for consideration.

What Is Life Worth?

THE gladiator in ancient Rome was probably more acutely aware of the blood than was Nero, who merely approved the death on principle. This closer awareness on the part of he whose blood is let is repeated in current history.

On Patricia Bay Highway every day people are risking their lives at the wheel. The hazard prevailing on the highway is one which they are unlikely to forget. Yet the man at the head of the highways department, Mr. P. A. Gagliardi, is more prone to forgetfulness by virtue of his greater distance from the problem.

PATRICIA No. 7 BAY HIGHWAY

In February Mr. Gagliardi was planning considerable effort in the elimination of danger on highways. At that time, in his address to the provincial legislature, he spoke at length on safety. A few short months later he was destined to term such references to safety as "prattle." Yet, in face of the legislature he suggested that he was, himself, concerned over safety on the highways.

"If any measures that can be taken will save lives, then it should be taken at all costs, because there is nothing that compares in value with a human life," said Mr. Gagliardi in an impassioned speech in February.

By midsummer he was unaware that accidents had taken place on Patricia Bay Highway. By autumn he has found something that exceeded the value of a human life. The cost of providing adequate traffic capacity on Patricia Bay Highway has already soared. With a current expenditure of 11 lives, the highway is unchanged and the hazard is in no way reduced despite innumerable and constant pleas to Mr. Gagliardi to evaluate human life here.

In the same address, Mr. Gagliardi suggested that poor highway design is a factor often overlooked in assessing the cause of fatal crashes. Yet he has been vigorous in opposing any suggestion that poor design of Patricia Bay Highway has been contributory to deaths on that highway.

The minister is very much aware of the danger of drunkenness behind the wheel. So are we all. But we cannot but feel concern that the minister should be so vitally concerned over one aspect which is patently anathema to all his principles, while but pallidly interested in factors unrelated to his principles.

We have every sympathy with the minister's principles, but we cannot share them if they are destined to blind us to all other considerations.

While the minister concentrates on one factor, his victims die for others.

Bravo, Linda!

MISS Canada is Miss Sidney. Wherever Canada's No. 1 young lady is invited to take part in a social function, the eyes of Canada, and beyond, will be focussed on this community. Miss Linda Douma has done it again.

When she left Patricia Bay Airport last week to take part in the Miss Canada contest she carried the good wishes of her friends and neighbors. The extent of their good wishes was very evident on Sunday evening. There was an air of rejoicing throughout Sidney when the news first percolated through the district that Linda had been named to the foremost beauty contest in Canada.

The entire contest is one of which all Sidney can be proud. While Linda's success is a tribute to her family and those interests around her which have contributed to her air of grace and charm, the competition was considerable.

Miss Canada was sponsored by a community of some 2,500 persons. Her fellow contestants hailed from cities ranging up to Montreal in size. Miss Canada was actually sponsored by Sidney Lions Club. It was the first active project this new club has launched in the community. Other contestants were backed by large community groups or commercial interests.

In due course all of British Columbia will take pride in the naming of Miss Douma as Miss Canada. In the meantime, her home community is basking in the reflected glory of Linda's triumph.

The judges could not have made a better choice. Miss Canada, with her poise, her natural grace and her engaging personality, will bring credit to all associated with her.

Remembrance Day

WHEN commerce comes to a standstill and places of business close down in token of Remembrance Day we reach a difficult situation. The majority of the populace are fully aware of the significance of Remembrance Day. Some are not so well aware. We cannot legislate awareness. We cannot demand that all persons of arbitrary age shall pay tribute to those who died in two wars. We cannot even make a demand, beyond an earnest request, that our neighbors contribute to the poppy fund.

In two major conflicts thousands of Canadians lived, fought and died side by side with allied nationals. On Remembrance Day we pay tribute to their memory. We wear a poppy that others may remember. We buy a poppy in order to maintain a fund that will continue to care for those who cannot live as we do because they fought that we might live as we do.

We shall remember them. Year after year, for so long as we live, we shall remember them. Those who cannot echo these words, should keep silent, for their shame will overwhelm them.

THOSE YELLOW PAGES

TELL YOU WHERE TO FIND THE THINGS YOU WANT

A trade licence will be issued by Sidney village to Weldon Wallace to permit him to continue repair of radio and TV sets, operating from his residence as a homebased venture. Mr. Wallace attended Monday's meeting of council, agreeing to forego the sale of new machines. Council members agreed unanimously to granting the licence which had been refused previously.

Mr. Wallace promised to stop advertising his repair work. He had formally requested B.C. Telephone Co. to remove his name from the yellow pages but the company had refused, he declared.

"I feel that mention of his occupation in the yellow pages is a form of advertising," said Commissioner J. G. Mitchell.

"The phone company insists that it must be in the yellow pages," countered Mr. Wallace. "I cannot have a phone unless it is listed in the yellow pages."

Commissioner Christian challenged the value of yellow pages advertising. He had questioned representatives of the B.C. Telephone Co. who told him it was not mandatory for his business to be listed there but that he would be foolish to remove the listing. "So I left it in," he concluded.

In granting the trade licence, council asked Mr. Wallace to have his yellow pages listing deleted within a year.

BRENTWOOD

Capt. A. Torrible, who was a resident of Brentwood for many years and is always remembered by his many friends here, celebrated his 96th birthday last Wednesday. He now lives at Shoreacres Rest Home with his wife and celebrated his birthday there with a tea party, prepared by his friends who visited him on that day and brought good wishes from all coherents of Brentwood United Church where Capt. and Mrs. Torrible attended.

T. Polson has returned to his home on Keating Cross Road after a hunting trip up-island with friends. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Nicol and daughter, Debbie, from Sundre, Alta., have come to make their home with Mrs. D. H. Bryce on Oldfield Road. Mrs. Bryce has returned home after a holiday in Alberta. Mrs. Nichol is her daughter.

Members of Brentwood U.C.W. will hold the monthly meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 11 instead of Thursday, at the manse on Verdier Ave. Mrs. L. C. Johnson will welcome visitors. Plans will be finalized for the Christmas bazaar and tea, being held at the church hall, West Saanich Road on the following Wednesday, Nov. 25.

The Victoria City Kennel Club has used Sanscha Hall and the village of Sidney is to be congratulated on having such a fine auditorium with such ample car space and a ladies' auxiliary to provide meals and refreshments.

Many exhibitors came from the U.S.A. and mainland and they expressed their pleasure at the facilities available and not least the welcome received from the various motels and auto courts at which they stayed with their dogs.

We would also like to express appreciation for the support received from the residents of North Saanich and Sidney who visited the show, both on Friday and Saturday.

We hope to come again.

HALLOWE'EN

The residents of Harbour Road, Sidney, take exception to your article on the editorial page in your issue of November 4 last, in which you refer to the lack of incidents on the night of Hallowe'en.

Young "punks" must have confined their efforts to Harbour Road, where letter boxes were either wrenched from their moorings or entirely uprooted and thrown into the ditches, in addition fences were broken down.

Similar damage occurred in this district in 1961, and as a result I contacted the local and Victoria detachments of the R.C.M.P. and adequate patrols were provided in 1962 and 1963. It is quite evident that this protection was not forthcoming this year.

Let's We Forget

Remembrance Day! ... let memory stray
To Flanders' Fields, where poppies sway
Between the whitened crosses;
In honour of our heroes bold,
And living veterans, some grown old,
The free world in silence pauses!

Remembrance Day! ... but could it be,
That those who died for liberty
Their lives have given in vain?
For over each continent and union
A subtle foe seeks domination,
And binding is its chain.

Remembrance Day! ... does mind recall
How gallantly Youth met the call
Defending Freedom's cause?
Of all we hold, this is most dear,
Yet countless numbers filled with fear,

This heritage have lost.
Think not, "This just 'Remembrance Day'."
Then breathe a prayer and go your way.

Forgetful of the price,
May moral courage never lag,
While flies unfurled true Freedom's flag,
Shun not to sacrifice!

Remembrance Day! ... the torch passed on
Was symbol of the victories won,
That millions yet might know—
While peace and liberty remain,
Unsullied still by sordid stain,
How great a debt we owe!
—Martha Readings.

NAVY TOAST

MERRIE MONARCH BUMPED HIS HEAD SO YET THEY SIT

I have just learned about some naval traditions, which are still honored, from an article which appeared in the R.C.N. magazine the Crow's nest some years ago. They may not be generally known, so I am passing them on.

First, I found that the tradition which allows naval officers to remain seated while drinking the health of the monarch dates back to the time of King Charles II. That merrie monarch was 6 feet 4 inches tall and when rising to reply to a toast, bumped his head on a beam. He thereupon decreed that naval officers should remain seated.

PLUM DUFF
The "navy blue" of our uniforms was ordered for the official color when George II, 1727-1760, was so impressed with the blue riding habit, white collar and gold buttons, worn by the Duchess of Bedford, that he decided to make that the official naval uniform! Good for the Duchess' taste! Nothing could be smarter!

Did you know that our sea-faring ancestors, the Norsemen, used to carry crows or ravens in a cage at the masthead of their ships? When they lost sight of land, they released a bird and followed its flight to the nearest shore. So, the look-out station followed and was called the "Crow's nest".

In olden times a boy was deputed to turn over a half-hour glass, and to show he had done this, had to ring the ship's bell. Later, as the watch progressed, one, two, three, and so on, bells were rung every half hour, until eight bells signified the end of the watch.

Hallowe'en More Than Night Of Spooks On Mayne Island

Hallowe'en night has for many years been looked upon as a night for the children, as well as the night of spooks and hobgoblins.

For some years now Mayne Island has made special arrangements for its school children, and the practice was continued this year. In addition to providing a good night for the children, not all of school age, the funds raised by holding a smorgasbord or something similar raised money for the "Save the Children Fund". A goodly contribution will go forward this year.

The children were the guests of honor at the head table, and were flanked by some 90 island residents and week-end people who turned out for the supper provided. All the children and many of the adults turned out in costume, giving a gay air to festivities.

Films were naturally a must when part of the purpose of the evening was to raise funds for the projector, and some films were run through by Fred Bennett. They included travelogues, the soap box derby and other items of interest. The films were provided by photographic department of the provincial government, and Mr. Gibson, of Imperial Oil.

Mrs. Fred Bennett and her committee of mothers of the school children provided the meal.

GANGES

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. D. G. Crofton, "Spring Corner", Ganges, have received word that their son, John, has been promoted to Wing Commander with the R.C.A.F., Ottawa.

Walter Mailey spent the week-end in Vancouver, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mitchell.

Mary-Lou Fraser, Vancouver, and Glenna Kaye, Victoria, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don McLeod, Ganges.

J. H. M. Lamb, St. Mary's Lake, returned home on Tuesday following a week's visit to Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Humphreys entertained at the tea hour, Sunday, at their home on Robinson Road.

ISLAND MINISTER LEAVING

Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Leech, who will be leaving Salt Spring Island this week for their new parish in Port Alberni, were honored following morning service in St. George's Church, Ganges, on Sunday, at a coffee party arranged by the Women's Organizations of the Anglican Church.

More than 100 parishioners attended to bid farewell to the rector and his wife.

Mrs. E. Worthington, president of the Senior W.A., presented Rev. Leech with a transistor radio and Mrs. Leech with a hand carved wooden tray.

LEGION SETS FINAL PLANS

Bridge, cribbage and canasta, seven tables in all, were played Wednesday afternoon in the Legion Hall at Ganges, at the first fortnightly session of the winter season.

Convened by W. H. Saunders, the sessions are being held under the auspices of Salt Spring Island Branch No. 992, Royal Canadian Legion.

Final arrangements for Remembrance Day service and dinner were made at Monday's meeting of the branch. It was reported that poppy sales were going well with a house-to-house canvass being conducted by members of the ladies' auxiliary and tagging in the village by Legionnaires.

New Magistrate

Lieut.-Col. M. F. Peller, Beddis Road, has been appointed coroner and magistrate of small debts court and family and juvenile court at Ganges.

He succeeds W. S. Anderson, who resigned, and D. G. Ashby of Sidney who occasionally held court at Ganges.

ward this year. There is also a surplus this year, and this will be devoted to helping to pay for a projector to have movies on the island. This has been bought by the local school trustees with the island taking a half share in it, so that a projector will be available whenever films can be shown. Close to $90 was raised during the evening.

The children were the guests of honor at the head table, and were flanked by some 90 island residents and week-end people who turned out for the supper provided. All the children and many of the adults turned out in costume, giving a gay air to festivities.

Films were naturally a must when part of the purpose of the evening was to raise funds for the projector, and some films were run through by Fred Bennett. They included travelogues, the soap box derby and other items of interest. The films were provided by photographic department of the provincial government, and Mr. Gibson, of Imperial Oil.

Mrs. Fred Bennett and her committee of mothers of the school children provided the meal.

PENDER PLAYERS ACTIVE

Since 1949, the Pender Island Players have been an enthusiastic and enterprising unit in the life of Pender Island.

For some years they costumed and staged productions twice annually at the Port Washington Hall, and for the past six seasons they have been meeting each month, on the first Thursday, for play-reading.

A group of 20 enjoyed reading "Nude With Violin", by Noel Coward, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bridge. Miss Marjorie Busteed is the president of the players, and John Copley the secretary-treasurer. The membership steadily increases.

FULFORD

Next W.I. meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 12 at 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. F. Middlemiss.

Mrs. A. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hepburn and Duncan Hepburn, attended the U.B.C.'s fall congregation in Vancouver last Friday, where Miss Mhora Hepburn received her degree of Bachelor of Education. Mrs. Davis returns to Fulford this week after visiting friends in Vancouver for the past week.

A christening was held in St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, when four-year-old "Buckshot" McManus was given the more imposing names of Alexander Thomas by the Rev. Stanley S. Leech. Alexander Thomas McManus's godparents are an uncle, N. J. McManus, and uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Proudfoot of Langford. The christening party went to the McManus home for tea after the church service.

A BEARD ABROAD

BY ED KETCHAM — OLD GULF ISLANDER

INSTALMENT I

Guanajuato has a New Street. And Guanajuatans call it just that: the New Street—although a recent publication put out by the local tourist office says simply, "Subterranean Street". It has been nearly two years abuilding at a tremendous cost in pesos—something like two million dollars but it is probably outstandingly unique in the streets of the world. It follows the old ravine for two miles—the ravine down which poured flood waters time after time in Guanajuato's early history until the dams were constructed early in this century and now the spillway from the dams is diverted into huge pipes laid under the New Street.

The walls of the old river bed down the ravine are not new; for countless years the banks of the river have been shored up by stone walls and buildings placed to the very edge and sometimes jutting over the walls supported by brackets. So the New Street is spared that expense in its construction but the decking had to be levelled off and paved and dozens of massive arches have been adapted to the old course of the river bed. The arches are of the stone from the famous quarries of Guanajuato.

COVERED ROAD

But a good part of the New Street is completely covered overhead, making a tunnel; tunnels alternating with arched chasms. Frequent exits and entrances give access from and to the city streets above.

The New Street is a one-way street, the direction being up-hill on an easy gradient. At the upper terminal the street proceeds at ground level for a ways and then plunges again into a chasm which has been there for many years, called Belanzaran Street—or it did when we first came due to detours forcing two-way traffic through Belanzaran St. Now down traffic is routed through Belanzaran St. and up traffic out of the New Street underground keeps to the surface but crosses the down traffic on an overpass.

Believe us, this is so confusing that we used buses exclusively the first two weeks here but now we're getting bolder and take Dutchies down through the complex occasionally just to watch her confusion. It has taken a lot of walking and exploring to fix the complex of narrow, crooked streets in our mind, especially as most of them are one-way streets and not so marked. The course of the bus from the Presa (dam) above us, through the heart of the city and to the bus station beyond is just unbelievable!

STOPPED EXECUTION

But we mentioned Belanzaran St. . . . an odd name, but it was a priest, Father Belanzaran, who saved the inhabitants of the city from mass execution when the loyalists returned in force after the debacle at the Granditas (mentioned in our last article). Legend has it that he ran out with a crucifix in his right hand and with his left grabbed the bride of the general charged with the mass murder and pleaded the innocence of the townspeople with such conviction that the general capitulated and cancelled the order.

The street is said to be the only street in the world along which there are no doors. It has several arches and overpasses of green stone, harmonizing admirably with the colonial appearance of the city.

Oh, there are so many tales and legends in this fabulous old city. . . . We don't go in much for visiting old churches and cathedrals; maybe "yes" to St. Peter's, St. Paul's, Notre Dame, Rheims, Coventry and maybe a handful more of world renown.

THREE CHURCHES

But in Guanajuato there are three churches which we found interesting for three different reasons. One was the Cathedral, commonly referred to locally as the Basílica (its new status) or La Parroquia. In this church rests the image of Guanajuato, old before Columbus discovered America, with its exciting history. This was referred to in an earlier article.

Another is the Church of Valencia, high up in another ravine, construction of which was begun in 1765 and finished in 1788 and presented to the miners of the parish. Its facade is of pink stone in churrigueresque style. Its three enormous altars are also done in this style and covered with 22-carat gold leaf. Its large pulpit is native wood inlaid with tortoise shell and ivory and in one corner is worked a scene depicting Count Valenciana presenting the church to his people.

The third church, even older than Valencia is called locally just "the miners' church". It is off the tourist track and a casual visitor to Guanajuato will only see it if his taxi-guide feels his vehicle is sturdy enough to make the sharp descent over a rough gravel road to the ravine in which it lies, below the Valenciana church.

TINY RAILROAD

En route to the church a working mine is passed and if the visitor is lucky he will see the elevator bring up a mining-car load of ore to be trundled off to the mill on a miniature railroad. The church itself also has a facade in the churrigueresque style—beautiful—but what interested us most were the retablos on the walls. These are miniature paintings usually about six by eight inches and there are literally thousands of them covering nearly all available wall space in the auditorium of the church. The custom probably goes back for centuries and represents gratitude of miners for recovery from sickness or accidents.

On each occasion the miner restored to health has one of these retablos painted and puts it on the wall, along with crutch, cane or discarded cast if they were involved. If he lost a leg he would buy or make a tiny leg of silver, same for an arm, and hang it up. We also saw the tiny silver hearts. Now let your imagination work on that one! And speaking of churches and the everlasting fiestas . . . we wonder how things ever got done in Mexico because of the celebration of everything under the sun—seems like. Yesterday we went to the Panteon (yes, we did!) to watch the Fiesta of the Dead. But, that's another story—for next week.

STATUE WAS DONATED

CRITICS ARE ANSWERED

New sculpture for the Toronto shopping centre in tribute to the Save the Children Fund has been provided without cost to the society.

When some question was raised here concerning the statuary, Mrs. E. H. Townshend, of 9566 Ardmore Drive, wrote to the national headquarters of the charitable society to ascertain the cost factor.

Kenric R. Marshall, national director of the fund replied that the sculpture and the competition took no money from the Save the Children Fund, but was donated by three patrons of the arts.

Competition was offered for the statue which has been erected at Lothian Mews shopping centre in Toronto. Winning sculpture was Jack Harman, of North Vancouver. His statue will invite the public to toss coins into the fountain in aid of the children's fund.

Mrs. J. D. Eaton, Mrs. S. Bronfman and Chris Yanoff contributed a fund of $5,000 for the contest, with a first prize of $4,000.

The competition is concluded, the statue is erected, the public are now constantly invited to contribute and the cost to the Save the Children Fund was nil.

Six television sets in working order have been donated for the November 14 bazaar of St. Elizabeth's Altar Society to be held at Sanscha Hall.

Donation of the sets was announced at the monthly meeting of the society at the home of the president, Mrs. W. Harris, on November 6.

Bazaar this Saturday will open at 2:30 p.m.

The meeting was chaired by S. J. Mayzes, zone commander. Before the presentations, Mr. Mayzes spoke of the work the Legion is doing in encouraging efforts of all kinds, endeavoring in every way possible to assist the youth of the Dominion in attaining a high standard, both mentally and physically.

The Dominion Command scholarship was presented to Linda Fernow of Castlegar, B.C.; the Sir Percy Lake scholarship to J. Mar-got Young, and the M. M. Lodge scholarship to Daphne Joan Dutton. The Britannia Branch No. 7, and the Public Service Branch No. 127 scholarships were presented to William J. Nelles and Marilyn Joan Maxie, respectively.

Six Pacific Command scholarships were presented to Darleen E. M. Bettison, Charles Albert Haynes, David William Johns, John C. W. Ritchie, Lesley Joan Thomas, Linda Mary Tomeczak, all of south Vancouver Island. The total value of these scholarships amounted to $2,700.

Each scholarship was presented by the president of the different branches that go to make up the South Vancouver Island Zone of the Royal Canadian Legion. Saanich Peninsula branch was represented by J. Pedlow, first vice-president; L. Martin, secretary, and S. H. Matlock, service officer. Mrs. E. Bul-lough and Mrs. J. Pearson represented the Ladies' Auxiliary to the branch.

The evening was concluded by organ music by Jack Foyer, and the ladies served lunch.

W.A. Annual Meeting Told Of Vancouver Japanese Mission

Afternoon Branch of St. Andrew's and Holy Trinity W.A. held the annual meeting at the rectory on November 4, when 23 members and one visitor were present.

Canon F. C. Vaughan-Birch introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. John Shozawa, in charge of the Japanese Mission in Vancouver. Mr. Shozawa regrets that they do not have a woman's auxiliary at the mission, language being the chief barrier. The elderly Japanese women find it too difficult to learn a new language. They meet, have tea and refreshments and visit, like women the world over. So they continue as a mission under the leadership of a representative of the Dominion Board, Woman's Auxiliary.

Following the reading of the minutes and correspondence, reports were heard. The treasury, E.C.D., U.T.O., and Living Message departments all showed increased activity over the previous year.

The prayer partner secretary reported that Miss Frances Wilnot is now working on the reserve with the Rev. J. Hopper. The branch receives newsletters three times a year, containing information about staff appointments and work being done. Mrs. Sowerby replied to each letter and sends a Christmas card and church calendar at the end of the year.

It has been felt that not sufficient time was being given to the educational secretary. It was decided to meet a half hour earlier on the first Wednesday of each month for religious and educational studies.

Mrs. Briggs gave a report on the diocesan board meeting held at Parksville.

In the temporary absence of Canon Vaughan-Birch, Mrs. A. F. C. Watts presided at the installation of

CUBS SEEK AID

BRENTWOOD AND PROSPECT LAKE SCOUTS AMALGAMATE

Newly appointed executive group of the 2nd Tsartlip Scout and Cub group at Brentwood Bay met on October 5, to discuss the business of the coming year.

They are: Ed. Eade, chairman; Ted Apps, vice-chairman; Mrs. J. Stansfield, secretary; Alex Davidson, treasurer; Clyde Brown, publicity; Andrew Isaac, badges; Jack Nelson, transportation.

Due to the circumstances, the amalgamation of the Prospect Lake

Scout troop and the Brentwood was considered desirable. The group felt that under the capable management of Harry Edgar, the move will be mutually beneficial. The troop will meet every Friday night in the Brentwood Scout Hall.

Cubs in Brentwood now have Martin Woods as their Akela but because of the size of the pack, he needs help to properly look after the progress of each individual within the pack.

Any persons who are interested in the development of the younger set, are requested to get in touch with Ed. Eade at GR 4-2058 for information regarding the need for an assistant in the Cub movement. The need is very real, said Mr. Eade and it is hoped that anyone who can contribute an evening a week to help with the youngsters will get in touch with him.

TRAVEL NOSEDIVES IN OCTOBER

Travel between Sidney and the United States took its annual nose-dive in October as the holiday season came to an end.

During the month, a total of 1,853 passengers arrived at the port of Sidney from the United States, compared to 7,444 in September. Persons departing Canada via Sidney numbered 1,605 in October. Of this number, only 293 were Canadian.

Automobile numbers corresponded to the passenger figures, with 646 arriving here in October, 75 of which were Canadian registrations, and a total of 591 departing. End of the summer tourist season was also echoed in inward-bound yacht traffic figures. During October, 38 foreign vessels checked in at Sidney on their entry into Canadian coastal waters compared to 118 the previous month. There were 13 Canadian vessels checking in at Sidney in October. Figures are compiled monthly by the customs and excise branch of the department of national revenue.

Two New Homes In October

Building permits valued at $29,900 were issued in the North Saanich Community Planning Area during October by Building Inspector W. H. Cannon.

Two permits for new home construction were issued last month, individually valued at $9,000 and $13,650.

High Praise For Sewer

And Engineer Commended

Latest extension of Sidney's sewerage system, which is now virtually complete, is eminently satisfactory. This assurance was given the village council on Monday evening by Russell E. Potter, Victoria consulting engineer, who supervised its construction.

Tests have indicated that there is no leakage from the new extension, said the engineer. He spoke very highly of the excellent work done by Farmer Construction Co.

Mr. Potter submitted a letter to the commission on the subject of the sewer extension. It will be carried in full in The Review in a later issue. He attended Monday's meeting in person to provide any further details required by the commissioners.

"I'm pleased to hear Mr. Potter state that it is a first class installation for that is what I have contended all along," said Commissioner J. G. Mitchell, head of the public works committee. He proposed a vote of confidence in Mr. Potter. It was quickly seconded by Commissioner J. E. Boshier and carried. Commissioner A. Boas recorded a negative vote.

SHEEP CLUB MEETS ON TUESDAY

First meeting of the Saanich 4-H Sheep Club is to be held Tuesday, Nov. 17 at the Farmer's Pavilion, Experimental Farm, promptly at 7:30 p.m.

Parents will be welcome at the meeting with members.

Any young people 10 to 21 wishing to become members will also be invited with their parents. 4-H in general will be explained to the new members. Additional information may be obtained from Syd Smetthurst, club leader, at GR 9-2894.

Too Many Conventions

Chairman of Saanich School District board of trustees is fearful of conventions.

When his board discussed the absence of staff at a convention, Reginald Sinkinson asked when would come the time when conventions might be superfluous.

"Some people spend more time at conventions than they do on the job," he suggested.

Always A First Time— But Twice?

Pender Islanders were startled twice last week.

For the first time in the history of the golf course on the island, a hole-in-one was scored on the number five hole (95 yards).

As a result, Arthur Talpat qualified for entry into the golfers' hall of fame.

But that was only the first surprise.

Shortly after, N. Grimmer duplicated this feat—on the same hole yet! It would seem that two laurel wreaths are in order.

"I am interested in the good of the people and I have the right to ask questions," declared Mr. Boas. He was assured by Chairman A. A. Cormack that, prior to the take over of the new extension from the contractor, the entire council will tour the project with the engineer and every opportunity will be provided to raise any questions.

A short tiff developed between Mr. Boas and Mr. Potter regarding the hold-back of 10 per cent on payments to the contractor. It was finally agreed unanimously to pay the bills with the exception of the hold-back.

In rising to depart, Mr. Potter thanked the commissioners for their courtesy and for the vote of confidence. "When I do more work for you I sincerely hope your confidence will be unanimous," he said.

THEY ARE IN FAVOR OF CHINA

Saanich school trustees lapsed into international affairs last week.

When the board was taking a glance at conditions in Canada and beyond, Chairman Reginald Sinkinson was critical.

"I sometimes wonder," he remarked, "just how long the United Nations is going to be with us."

Lewis Harvey was travelling the same road. "Not very long," he suggested, "unless they take in Red China. It is ridiculous that a nation of 700 million should be ignored."
